Speakers biography:

Ivan Ng, Waters Pacific Pte Ltd, - Regional LC & Informatics Sales Manager for SEA

Ivan joined Waters in 2008 as the Account Manager for Singapore. His portfolio of product expertise included LC, MS, Chemistry and Informatics. He was also responsible for business development of the Chemical Analysis and Government sectors in Singapore.

From 2010, Ivan took on the responsibility of managing the South East Asia business in planning the forecast and implementation of new business initiatives with Waters distribution partners.

As part of his growing portfolio and areas of expertise, Ivan had the additional responsibility to manage the Pharmaceutical and Life- Science business in Singapore.

Ivan assumed the role of Regional LC & Informatics Sales Manager for South East Asia. Ivan worked with Waters local business partners to develop strategies and business plans to promote Empower Network/Enterprise and NuGenesis 8 in Waters growing customer base.

His current focus is to develop initiatives to communicate the value of regulatory compliance and Empower Network implementation. He is also responsible to educate the local teams in promoting Empower solutions, NuGenesis and Waters LC solutions.

Kirsten Craven, Waters Corporation - Senior Product Manager (Mass Spectrometry Product Management)

Kirsten studied Chemistry and Analytical Science at the University of Birmingham, and graduated in 2003. After graduating Kirsten worked for two large international companies, Ineos and SGS, as an Analytical Scientist. Immediately before joining Waters she worked for Unilever at their R&D site in the north of England, UK, as a perfume analyst. As part of this role she was involved in transferring some their analytical methods and delivering training in India. Kirsten started working for Waters in 2011 as an Application Specialist in the Chemical Materials Business Operations group. In this role she is working with ACQUITY UPLC, Xevo bench top Time of Flight and SYNAPT with ion mobility technologies to create system solutions for the Chemical Materials industry.

Kirsten's current responsibilities as a Product Manager are for the Xevo G2-XS QTof.

Rina Lue Yee Peng, Waters Pacific Pte Ltd, CBU Business Development Manager SEA

Rina received her Bachelor with honours and Master degree from the National University of Singapore in 2002. After graduation, she joined Defense Science Organization (DSO) of Singapore and GlaxoSmithKline in UK to be involved in many areas of pharmaceutical research. She took up a position with Waters Asia in Singapore as application specialist seven years ago. Her main responsibility is to provide application and technical support to end users in the area of liquid chromatography and mass spectrometry. She also develops and delivers product trainings for both internal employee and external customers. Last but not the least; she is also involved in the formulation of seminars and product demonstration program for prospective customers in Singapore and SEA. She currently serves as the Business Development Manager for consumables product in South Asia, where she applies her experience in application support to help customer achieve optimal result with Waters chemistry product.
